Tonight's Conductor

Joe Accuardi was born and raised in the Portland area. He studied music at Portland State University where he earned a Bachelor of Arts in Music and a Masters Degree in Education. Joe regularly performs tuba for both the Newport Symphony Orchestra, and the Columbia Symphony Orchestra; and also performs tuba with the Oregon Symphonic Band, and the Pacific Crest Wind Symphony.

Joe is currently the Director of Bands at Prairie High School, in Battle Ground, WA; and is becoming well-known for his unique artistry in the wind band genre. Joe studied conducting with Dr. William Tuttle, attended conducting symposiums with Allen McMurray and Dr. Ed Higgins, and has attended master-classes from Dr. Thomas Lee and Jerry Junkin. This is Joe's third year directing the Rose City Gay Freedom Band, and the Rose City Swing Band.
